skin health our customers deserve. It's rightly said that Rome wasn't built in a day. Our first step was to create the right need amongst the right customers. Identifying the gap and ensure to deliver exactly the formula their skin needed. We went ahead with the right channel-partners, dermatologists. We started with a team of mere 3 employees and today we are team of more than 200 amazing people. We are one of the most dermatologist recommended brands."
